full of cares Hark! on the top-most step, Tramp, tramp, is heard
Sighs fly Pres - tis - si - mo Seems quite ab - surd
Why! why! can't you see! But-ton's a she! and Tramp's a he!
Hush! hush! let them meet, Hear a kiss oh! how sweet

2. Boots and Tramps meet and pause, Whis - pers come and go
3. But - tons fraid, some one saw; Cheeks are ro - sy red;
p
Why don't they speak and pass! Time e - nough I know.
In out and ev - 'ry - where, Pops her lit - tle head,

Both have met be - fore to - day, Still a lot to say
Tramp goes out with smile - ing face, Knows what he's a - bout
Two or three such meet-ings, Sure will Take up half the day.—
Tramp and Boots will meet a - gain, not a bit of doubt:
Why! why! Don't— you see! But-ton's a she! and Tramp's a he!
Ha! ha! Noth - ing new Same old tale, a wed - ding veil
